Words are good...

T.A. Barron — author of “Heartlight,” “The Ancient One (being made into a motion picture) and “The Merlin Effect” — was at The Colorado Springs School on Sept. 28 giving students tips on how to write novels and get them published. Barron told the students how, after growing up in rural Colorado, he went on to attend Princeton, win a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, and travel throughout Asia, Africa and the Arctic Circle.
